Character Education: Shyness

Name _____ Date _____

Leonard is one of the shyest boys in his class. On the first day of school, he picks a seat in the back of the classroom. After a week of class, Leonard has not been able to read what the teacher is writing on the board. He is too embarrassed to raise his hand and ask the teacher what the board says, and the other children do not seem to be having any trouble. What should Leonard do? What might happen if Leonard does not do anything? What would you do in this situation? Have you ever had a problem and been too embarrassed to tell anybody?
